PITTSBURG COAL CO'S DIFFERENCES ADJUSTED

Settlement Effected by Miners and Operators in Conference

MEN GET CONCESSIONS

Marks an Important Event in This Year's Coal Mining History

After weeks of parley differences between the coal miners and operators of the Pittsburgh Coal company's mines in this district have been settled satisfactory to both sides, and this afternoon the agreement reached is being presented to the miners' officials of the Pittsburgh district for their ratification. The main contentions of the men it is stated have been conceded. The contract has not been made public. Disputes related to the use of safety lamps in drawing ribs in portions of mines which are to be abandoned and the conditions surrounding the work of men who are paid by the day. A uniform eight-hour day is to be established throughout the district.

By the satisfactory adjustment of the Pittsburgh Coal troubles a long-continued period of prosperity is assured to the miners of the Pittsburgh district in what is generally agreed to be the best year in the history of mining, both for the men and their employees. Not long ago a similar agreement was reached by miners and operators of nearly all of the rest of the mines in the district.

The demand for coal in the markets supplied by this district is so great that it is said that 3,000 more men than are now at work could be given full time. Nevertheless, trifling disputes have for several weeks broken out in small strikes that have tied up mines here and there for a day or two. They caused the officers of the miners' organization much trouble in persuading men to return to work and await a settlement, which they were assured would be made.

The troubles originated in ambiguous clauses in the scale which was signed in the general conference last spring. Under the agreement reached yesterday it is stated that there will be no difficulty hereafter in adjusting any differences of opinion which may arise at any time at any of the mines. Conditions are different in various localities, but the operators and the scale committee have agreed as to how the contract shall be interpreted and this will make any case which may hereafter arise easy of solution.

CELEBRATION TO BE HELD SATURDAY BY MINERS OF VESTA

The employers of Vesta No. 4 hold their seventh annual outing on the Coal Centre ball grounds Saturday, August 31. The chief address of the day will be given by President Van Bittner, president of District No. 5; ex-President Francis Feehan is also on the list of speakers. There will be addresses by others representing the various nationalities present. There will be a ball game and sports of all kinds.

Canton Long on Triplets

Record Made by Stork in Washington County Township--Arrivals Healthy

There is no race suicide in Canton township, a portion of Washington county which lies close to the borough of Washington. This week the stork visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Patt, leaving three little girls. The tots weigh 4 1-2, 4 and 3 1-2 pounds, respectively. All are doing well and bid fair to grow up into healthy young damsels.

This is the second time within two years that triplets have come to Canton township. Some 21 months ago the stork left a trio of girls at the Nichols home next door to the Patt domicile, and all three are chubby, happy youngsters.

RINGGOLD VETERANS ASSEMBLE

Fifty years ago Aug. 29 six independent cavalry companies marched out of Beallsville on the way to Washington, D. C., and Thursday 112 survivors of the first march met to celebrate the thirty-ninth annual reunion of the Ringgold Battalion of the Twenty-second Pennsylvania Volunteer Cavalry.

The veterans gathered this forenoon in the Methodist Episcopal church, at Beallsville where an address of welcome was given by Dr. L. E. Sargent of Beallsville. Present, L. H. Crago, of Waynesburg responded. Col. A. J. Greenfield of Chicago brought cheers when he unfolded the flag, tattered and battle-scarred that waved over the heads of the Ringgold Battalion when it marched out of Beallsville in 1862. Other speakers were: Erasmus Wilson of Pittsburgh, D. M. Snyder of Beallsville, Mr. A. S. McCarthy of Mt. Union, Pa., Rev. W. H. Kirkland of Dravosburg, Boyd Hedge of Des Moines, Iowa, and F. B. Farrar of Pittsburgh.

The entire town of Beallsville was elaborately decorated for the occasion. The old soldiers were the guests of the townspeople and everything was done to make the reunion a success and to provide for the comfort of the veterans. It was announced that 11 of the Ringgold veterans have died during the past year.

Miss Edith Woodhall went to Pittsburgh today to visit.

PICNIC FEATURED BY GAMES FOR CHILDREN

Second Annual Outing of Sunday Schools of Charleroi Held at Eldora--Weather Interferes to Some Extent

Although bad weather interfered to a very considerable extent with the Union Sunday School picnic Thursday given under the auspices of six Sunday Schools of Charleroi, there was a good-sized crowd at the park and a crowd that enjoyed itself from morning to night. Boys and girls, for whom the outing was given were present in numbers, they not caring particularly whether it rained or shined. The way they called into requisition the bar-ho, slide and the other park amusements was evidence itself of the success of the occasion.

Special cars were run to the park in the morning and one went after the luncheon hour. The older folks attended to the baskets. The afternoon was the most enjoyable time at the park. Then a program of sports was decided and a number of excellent prizes awarded. The various races were hotly contested. Among the most interesting races were those for girls. M. Wilson was in charge of the various events. The heavens clearing away later in the afternoon a number went for supper and to spend the early evening at the park.

MAKES SPEECH LONG SENTENCES IN OHIO TOWN FOR THREE MEN

Edward Callaghan Discusses Education in East Liverpool

SPEAKS OF GOVERNMENT TWENTY YEARS LIMIT

The following is from the East Liverpool, Ohio, Morning Tribune, of August 24, a marked copy of which has been sent to this office:

Edward Callaghan of Charleroi, Pa., a former member of the Pennsylvania state legislature, made a forceful and convincing public address before a large gathering at the Fifth street corner last evening, using for his subject, "Education--the Need of the Hour."

In the course of his discourse Mr. Callaghan brought out the fact that the real solution to the great governmental problems confronting the nation today is education. "Suppose the masses were called upon to run our business houses, our banks, etc.," said the speaker, "could they do it? I am afraid not. They are not capable. Why? Because they are deficient in their education."

"The illiterate voter," he continued, "and the ignorant rich, are the most dangerous men in the country today. I believe it would be a great thing for Ohio to grant the right of suffrage to women. Although I have always opposed it in the past, my traveling about has brought to me the fact that intelligent co-operation with the learned women of the country will solve the great problems before us. If we, the people, are unable to do it along educational lines, must necessarily be remedied by force of arms by those who would undoubtedly abuse the power given them."

Mr. Callaghan, who now is connected with the International Correspondence Schools, will remain in the city for some time.

MONESSEN WATER CO. A REALITY

Charleroi Water Company Changes Name of Consolidated Firm

CITIZENS FEEL ANGRY

The question of "What's in a name" never bothered Charleroi people until this week and now they are using gray matter and considerable vocabulary in worrying over it. The Charleroi Water company, which has caused the town as much concern as any individual company in it, and which during the last month or two has been the source of much additional thought and more consideration, is at the bottom of the latest trouble. Not satisfied apparently with a good thing when they get it and with extremely considerate treatment, favors and the like the company has changed its name to "The Monessen Water company."

Not long ago the Charleroi Water company, backed by the Mellons and others too numerous to mention had a hunch that it would like to control the water supply of Monessen borough and Donora borough through the Charleroi plant. It already owned the Donora plant under the firm name of "The Donora Water company." It secured control of the Monessen Water company in good time. Charleroi borough opposed the consolidation of the three companies on grounds justifiable enough, have the consolidation held up by

JURY DIVIDES COSTS

Local Hearing at End--Concerned Trouble Over Taking of Fruit

At criminal court at Washington Thursday John Harbaugh, of Hazelskirk was on trial before Judge McIlvaine on a charge of having shot and fatally wounded John Goodrich at Hazelskirk on May 15 last. The wounded man died on May 18 at the Memorial hospital at Monongahela.

The shooting followed a slight difference between Harbaugh, Mike Zias, Mike Morish and another foreigner, who ran away after the trouble. All the men had been drinking. It appears one of the men had addressed another as his "buddy," to which Harbaugh took exceptions. A fight started and blows were struck. The principal trouble was between Zias and Harbaugh. Goodridge was shot while trying to take a gun from Harbaugh, who was threatening to shoot Zias. In the fray Harbaugh received some knife wounds.

The defense claims that Harbaugh was not the aggressor, but shot after the other men had jumped on him and were beating him. The Commonwealth is not asking a first degree verdict and consequently the jury is not being kept together.

Mike Moliner of the Tylerdale section an old offender was found guilty of violating the liquor laws. He runs a boarding house and the intoxicants, it is claimed, were sold to boarders and others. He was directed to pay the costs, fine of $500 and to undergo imprisonment in the county jail for three months.

In the case of W. Miller, charged with assault and battery, the jury found the defendant not guilty, but placed half the costs on him and the other half on the private prosecutor, George Pahauich.

The jury divided the costs in the case against Earl Straussner, charged on oath of Mrs. May Frye, with wantonly pointing firearms, assault and battery, etc. The parties concerned had trouble over the taking of some fruit from the farm of Mrs. Tuman, mother of the prosecutrix, situated near Charleroi, which farm was rented by the defendant.

MANY COUPLE ATTEND STATE COLLEGE DANCE

The Washington County Club of the Pennsylvania State College gave their first summer hop of the present season at Eldora Park Thursday evening. About 60 couples were present from all along the Monongahela valley and from interior parts of three counties. The committee in charge of the affair consisted of O. T. Ailes of Donora, E. R. Stewart of Roscoe and L. A. Valentin of McDonald. Pennants formed the greater part of the decorations.

THE PITTSBURG EXPOSITION

The annual opening of the Pittsburg Exposition this week once again calls attention to the importance of the institution in a business way for the merchants and trade people of the Smoky City. This institution, which is entirely local to the city in its scope, is a permanent one, and each fall it attracts thousands of outside people who in this manner become acquainted with the stores and business places, and learn the ways of city shopping. The exposition is a sort of county fair, with the exception that it continues the holiday spirit and exhilaration of sight seeing for a period of eight weeks instead of the three or four days of the county exhibit. Directly and indirectly, the Pittsburgh Exposition has no doubt been responsible for millions of dollars of outside trade for the city since its permanent institution.

It is entirely within the province of every town of any considerable size to have an exposition founded on similar lines that would be an annual event. That the people crave some such recreation was evidenced by the electrical exposition that the West Penn people held in the Charleroi skating rink here this last spring. This exposition was not only pleasing and attractive, but was most instructive, and was visited by large crowds of people, many of them coming from out of town again and again to spend an hour or two in the brilliantly lighted auditorium, and to see and study the electrical appliances and to learn something about their possibilities and application. The mere act of mingling with the crowds of the best people from all points up and down the river was an attraction in itself, and the exposition was highly enjoyed, as well as a great success for its promoters.

It is possible to hold a similar week's exposition of local interests in the rink at any time. Such an institution would be highly beneficial to the trade and interests of the town, and would afford a delightful source of recreation for the people from all points along the valley.

PRESIDENT TAFT

"Laboring under the disadvantage imposed by hostile control of the House of Representatives and a hopelessly split majority in the Senate of the Sixty-second Congress, President Taft has had an unusually difficult course to steer," says the New York Sun. "The majority in the House, ably captained, with a deplorable but thoroughly human instinct, has insisted on playing polititics. The insurgent Senators have bent their energies to play the devil.
In the Congress the Republican party has been in a hopeless minority.

"Under these circumstances the position of the Executive has been vexatious, trying and exposed to unusual dangers. It is to Mr.
Taft's credit that he has sustained it without more concessions to the ex-pediencies of the hour or the necessities of the political campaign in which he is engaged. He has been the President of the United States first and an intelligent partisan second. He has not been a trimmer, nor has he sacrificed his convictions because of clamor or misrepresentation.
"President Taft has made mistakes, as every President must. But his essential sincerity, modesty, good sense and strength of character are convincingly apparent."

ELECTRIC SPARKS

Let's see, was there a man named Galley who once opposed Bryan?

There cannot be much complaint about the weather prophets not hitting it right.

The next thing we know bathing gums will be taking their dips clad in the garb of Esquimaux.

Any town that cops a convention when the name of Charleroi is mentioned will have to go some.

How Uncle Joe Cannon can figure as a high kicker and still be a standpatter is "too many" for us.

Possibly no one will care, but it is still a fact that Jack Johnson didn't come from Washington county.

Some people might think one odd that wears a fur coat in August.
With this weather nothing is odd.

The Schenectady Gazette says that disease can be transmitted by paper money. How horrible! However, we resign ourselves and will willingly accept the disease.

It seems that Fairmont W. Va.

Atlantic City and lost his pants.

The Independent Order of Seven-Wise men of Pennsylvania has selected Williamsport as the place for its 1915 convention. Which means that we will look upon Williamsport with suspicion henceforth.

The man who doesn't know what the cut out of an automobile is like is sometimes thankful for its existence when he has to hop out of the way from some on-coming demon, whose goggled driver forgets to look his horn.

Picnics are funny things. The first part of the summer people don't like to attend them because they come too early. The last part of the summer they don't like to attend them because they come too late. In the middle part of the summer the people are too tired.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

"The greatest innovation is automobiles and their equipment that is now attracting our attention is a tire that does away with the air inflated inner tube," said C. S. Van Voorhis of the Elite Garage, which is located on McKean avenue between Sixth and Seventh streets. "While this invention has been out for about five years, it is just now coming into general usage, after having successfully passed through all the evolutionary stages in its process of development.

"This substitute for the air inflated tire is made of a composition in which not a particle of rubber enters. As near as I can describe it the material is something like the composition from which printers' rollers are made, except that it is im-permeable to heat and cold and water. It is soft and elastic, and the tires are cast in solid sections of from 18 to 20 inches in length. These fit snugly into the outside casing, a joining section, something like the keystone of an arch, completing the circle.

"The case containing the solid butterfly substance is clamped on to the wheel in the ordinary way, and you have a tire which will never collapse by puncture, and which will stand up until the outside casing is entirely worn out. It is every bit as good, more elastic than the air inflated tire, and a thousand times more durable. In fact it will never wear out so long as the casings are whole.

"We have secured the agency for this tire, which is known as the "Eskenkay," for Washington county.
We have already equipped the car of George Myford of the Myford Hotel with them and have placed orders for the complete equipment of 11 more cars within our jurisdiction. This tire has now passed the experimental stage and is being manufactured and sold on as large a scale as any of the air inflated tires. There are known instances of the tires standing up for runs of from 12,000 to 18,000 miles with no apparent effect on their durability.

"The auto business this year has been exceptionally good with us, and we have put out a large number of the machines we handle, which are the Stearns, the Overland and the Abbott-Detroit. In selling machines, now it is only a question of finance.
Previously the agency had to show ability of the auto. This is no longer necessary and the only thing now in a prospective deal is the matter of finance and the choice of a machine."

Among the world's left handed geniuses was Leonardo da Vinci, who wrote a treatise on aviation, the hand writing of which travels from the right side of the page to left. Nelson, too was left handed but that was from necessity.

J. R. Green records a story of Admiral Nelson's visit to Yarmouth to receive the freedom of the borough. "A storm met him on his landing, but the demon failed to prevent his appearance on the quay. When the admiral's oath was tendered to him the town clerk noticed that the hero placed his
legal impropriety he said, 'Your right hand, my lord.' 'That,' observed Nelson, 'is at Tenerife.'"

Opening of Twenty-fourth Season Wonderful Success; Titanic Wreck Reproduced on a Thriller

The Exposition opened under very favorable circumstances. The board of directors at a meeting held prior to the opening were enthusiastic over the outlook for this season. Words of encouragement and commendation have been more numerous this year than ever before. The real spirit and purpose of Pittsburgh's annual show are becoming more clearly understood today and are bringing out the strongest sympathy and co-operation. The United States government has the finest display of any ever given at the Point. Shelby Clarke of Washington is in charge of the exhibit and has spent many weeks in gathering it together from various arsenals and departments of the nation and arranging it in attractive and easily understood form for the spectators to see. The city of Pittsburgh, which is now spending millions of dollars in municipal improvements and in combating some of the sternest features of natural law in making streets more easily traveled, has on display models and profiles of the tremendous undertakings that are now under way. Even the greatest reinforced concrete bridge ever constructed in the world is shown in detail and illustrates the high degree of art that is now entering the public work of this country. At the end of machinery hall in the space formerly occupied by the reproduction of the battle of the Monitor and Merrimac there is on display one of the most startling pieces of realism ever attempted. Spectators are able to witness the departure from Southampton, England, of the great steamship Titanic on its first and last voyage and to trace every movement of that boat and watch the movements of its passengers until the moment that it crashed into the great iceberg that sent it to the bottom of the sea. The tragedy which makes an epoch in marine history is worked out before the eyes of the spectator who is on board the ship, and with the aid of the artists of the country and

The attractions from a musical standpoint are better than at any time in the past history of the Exposition. The world's greatest orchestras and concert bands are scheduled to appear this season. The entire program for the season is complete, and though some minor changes may be made from time to time it will be practically carried out as originally prepared. The city of San Francisco is represented at the Exposition with a large booth and much literature as well as frequent lantern slides and exhibits showing the city of the Golden Gate and many points of interest about it together with other features that will have a bearing on the coming Panama Canal exposition that will be held there in 1915. The Exposition Music Hall has been handsomely decorated and made more attractive than it has been since the Exposition buildings were completed. All the street car lines in Pittsburgh are issuing transfers to the Exposition buildings with out extra charge and the railroad companies will run their usual excursions to Pittsburgh during the season as in the past. The approach to the buildings has been made more pleasant by more than double the ordinary street lights of the very latest type and everything has been done to make the visit of the throngs to the Point this year more enjoyable than ever before.

The State Water Supply commission for a few weeks. The Charleroi Water company got busy however and Charleroi borough finally hoisted the white flag.

The latest plan of changing the name to Monessen Water company has made some of the citizens hotter than blue blazes, and the way they are using vocabulary indicates that they have a corner on it. Still when they get their bills they will find the new name conspicuous.

LIGGETTS CALL OFF CELEBRATION

Monongahelians Decide Not to Hold Field Events on Labor Day

Owing to the apparent lack of interest on the part of the young athletes of Monongahela the Liggett Athletic Association decided to call off the field meet, which had been scheduled for Bryan Field at Monongahela on Labor Day, next Monday. The entrants were so few that it was deemed wise to call the affair off rather than make a fizzle of the undertaking. The association will now center its efforts on the two baseball games which will be played between Liggett and Beltzhoover, one in the morning and the second in the afternoon.

RAILROAD INDEX OF THE COUNTRY

Pennsylvania System's Earnings Good Basis for Calculation

That the earnings of no single railroad reflect the trade conditions of the United States more faithfully than those of the Pennsylvania Railroad, is the statement made in a recent number of "The Statist," leading journal of finance and trade in England. It is pointed out that from decade to decade the traffic of the Pennsylvania and its earnings have shown a vast increase in consequence of the expansion in the wealth, income and trade of the country.

Referring to the present business outlook, "The Statist" says: "Already the recovery has commenced and since last October the gross earnings of the railroad have shown expansion. For the first five months of 1912 the expansion in gross earnings has been $5,444,000.00 or nearly nine per cent. The volume of American trade largely upon the abundance of the harvest of 1912 other than winter wheat, promises to be large, a great expansion in the traffic and earnings of the Pennsylvania is assured."

"If the traffic of the Pennsylvania shows the normal rate of expansion in the next few years, as we confidently anticipate it will do, the increase in the profits of the undertaking should prove substantial. In recent years the Company has constructed additional lines of railway along the whole length of its system, and it is now in a position to operate economically a much larger traffic than it enjoys. Consequently an increase in traffic for the next few years will not mean a corresponding increase of capital charges, but will bring a large expansion in profits for dividend."

Calling attention to the earnings of the Pennsylvania last year, "The Statist" refers to the fact that "The Company earned a profit of no less than $17,000,000.00 for dividend upon its common stock, equal to 8.55 per cent on the stock, a figure nearly as large as that of the previous year, and after paying a dividend of six per cent, there was a balance of over $11,000,000.00 for improvements and capital purposes. The maintenance of the freight rate with economy of operation arising from the skill with which the traffic is now dealt, and with the absence of any large capital expenditures, should mean a large increase of profit."

MONESSEN CARING FOR THE BABIES

Keeps Experienced Nurse Busy During Summer--Cholera Infantile Noticeable

The report for the two weeks ending Monday morning, August 26, made by Miss Wilson, the baby nurse for Monessen is encouraging in every way and shows conclusively that very careful attention has been given the little ones who have suffered with child's greatest ailment--summer complaint or cholera-in-fantum.

Up until Monday morning there were twelve babies on Miss Wilson's visiting list.

Seven of these were really in dangerous conditions and were visited every day and very specific instructions given to the parents relative to their attention.

The remaining five were visited by the nurse every third day and they are so much improved as to be released soon.

Among the patients under Miss Wilson's care are Americans, Italians, Germans and Slavish, and while in some cases she experiences some difficulty at first in having mothers understand her instructions when they once learn that the intent is for the child's good they drop into and very readily follow the directions.

The funds contributed for this purpose are said to be holding out and Miss Wilson's services will be retained as long as there is any sickness needing her attention up until the cooler weather of Fall comes.

Up Early.

"The boss asked me what made me look so tired," said Galtley, the clerk, "and I told him I was up early this morning."

"Huh!" snorted the bookkeeper. "You never got up early in your life."

"I didn't say that I got up. I said I was up."

"Why do you live with your husband if you quarrel all the time?"

"Well, my sister bet me a box of chocolates we would never celebrate our paper wedding anniversary, and I'm going to win it just to spite her."

PITTSBURG COAL CO'S DIFFERENCES ADJUSTED

Marks an Important Event in

This Year's Coal Mining History

After weeks of parley differences between the coal miners and operators of the Pittsburgh Coal company's mines in this district have been settled satisfactory to both sides, and this afternoon the agreement reached is being presented to the miners' officials of the Pittsburgh district for their ratification. The main contentions of the men it is stated have been conceded. The contract has not been made public. Disputes related to the use of safety lamps in drawing ribs in portions of mines which are to be abandoned and the conditions surrounding the work of men who are paid by the day. A uniform eight-hour day is to be established throughout the district.

By the satisfactory adjustment of the Pittsburgh Coal troubles a long-continued period of prosperity is assured to the miners of the Pittsburgh district in what is generally agreed to be the best year in the history of mining, both for the men and their employees. Not long ago a similar agreement was reached by miners and operators of nearly all of the rest of the mines in the district.

The demand for coal in the markets supplied by this district is so great that it is said that 3,000 more men than are now at work could be given full time. Nevertheless, trifling disputes have for several weeks broken out in small strikes that have tied up mines here and there for a day or two. They caused the officers of the miners' organization much trouble in persuading men to return to work and await a settlement, which they were assured would be made.

The troubles originated in ambiguous clauses in the scale which was signed in the general conference last spring. Under the agreement reached yesterday it is stated that there will be no difficulty hereafter in adjusting any differences of opinion which may arise at any time at any of the mines. Conditions are different in various localities, but the operators and the scale committee have agreed as to how the contract shall be interpreted and this will make any case which may hereafter arise easy of solution.

CELEBRATION TO BE HELD SATURDAY BY MINERS OF VESTA

The employers of Vesta No. 4 hold their Seventh annual outing on the Coal Centre ball grounds Saturday, August 31. The chief address of the day will be given by President Van Bittner, president of District No. 5; ex-President Francis Feehan is also on the list of speakers. There will be addresses by others representing the various nationalities present. There will be a ball game and sports of all kinds.

Canton Long on Triplets

There is no race suicide in Canton township, a portion of Washington county which lies close to the borough of Washington. This week the stork visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Patt, leaving three little girls. The tots weigh 4 1-2, 4 and 3 1-2 pounds, respectively. All are doing well and bid fair to grow up into healthy young damsels.

Fifty years ago Aug. 29 six independent cavalry companies marched out of Beallsville on the way to Washington, D. C., and Thursday 112 survivors of the first march met to celebrate the thirty-ninth annual reunion of the Ringgold Battalion of the Twenty-second Pennsylvania Volunteer Cavalry.

The veterans gathered this forenoon in the Methodist Episcopal church, at Beallsville where an address of welcome was given by Dr. L. E. Sargent of Beallsville. Lieut. L. H. Crago, of Waynesburg responded. Col. A. J. Greenfield of Chicago brought cheers when he unfolded the flag, tattered and battle-scarred that waved over the heads of the Ringgold Battalion when it marched out of Beallsville in 1862. Other speakers were: Erasmus Wilson of Pittsburgh, D. M. Snyder of Beallsville, Dr. A. S. McCarthy of Mt. Union, Pa., Rev. W. H. Kirkland of Dravosburg, Boyd Hedge of Des Moines, Iowa, and F. B. Farrar of Pittsburgh.

The entire town of Beallsville was elaborately decorated for the occasion. The old soldiers were the guests of the townspeople and everything was done to make the reunion a success and to provide for the comfort of the veterans. It was announced that 14 of the Ringgold veterans have died during the past year.

Miss Edith Woodhall went to Pittsburgh today to visit.

Edward Callaghan Discusses Education in East

Liverpool

Speaks of Government Twenty Years Since

The following is from the East Liverpool, Ohio, Morning Tribune, of August 24, a marked copy of which has been sent to this office: Edward Callaghan of Charleroi, Pa., a former member of the Pennsylvania state legislature, made a forceful and convincing public address before a large gathering at the Fifth street corner last evening, using for his subject, "Education—the Need of the Hour."

In the course of his discourse Mr. Callaghan brought out the fact that the real solution to the great governmental problems confronting the nation today is education. "Suppose the masses were called upon to run our business houses, our banks, etc.," said the speaker, "could they do it? I am afraid not. They are not capable. Why? Because they are deficient in their education. "The illiterate voter," he continued, "and the ignorant rich, are the most dangerous men in the country today. I believe it would be a great thing for Ohio to grant the right of suffrage to women. Although I have always opposed it in the past, my traveling about has brought to me the fact that intelligent co-operation with the learned women of the council, will solve the great problems before us. If we, the people, are unable to do it along educational lines, it must necessarily be remedied by force of arms by those who would undoubtedly abuse the power given them."

Mr. Callaghan, who now is connected with the International Correspondence Schools, will remain in the city for some time.

MONESSEN WATER CO. A REALITY

Not long ago the Charleroi Water company, backed by the Mellons and others too numerous to mention had a hunch that it would like to control the water supply of Monessen borough, and Donora borough through the Charleroi plant. It already owned the Donora plant under the firm name of "The Donora Water company." It secured control of the Monessen Water company in good time. Charleroi borough opposed the consolidation of the three companies on grounds justifiable enough to have the consolidation held up by

Local Hearing at Eldora

Concerned Trouble Over Taking of Fruit

At criminal court at Washington Thursday John Harbaugh of Hazelskirk was on trial before Judge McIlvaine on a charge of having shot and fatally wounded John Goodrich at Hazelskirk on May 15 last. The wounded man died on May 18 at the Memorial hospital at Monongahela.

The shooting followed a slight difference between Harbaugh, Mike Zias, Mike Morish and another foreigner, who ran away after the trouble. All the men had been drinking. It appears one of the men had addressed another as his "buddy," to which Harbaugh took exception. A fight started and blows were struck. The principal trouble was between Zias and Harbaugh. Goodridge was shot while trying to take a gun from Harbaugh, who was threatening to shoot Zias. In the fray Harbaugh received some knife wounds.

The defense claims that Harbaugh was not the aggressor, but shot after the other men had jumped on him and were beating him. The commonwealth is not asking a first degree verdict and consequently the jury is not being kept together.

Mike Moliner of the Tylerdale section an old offender was found guilty of violating the liquor laws. He runs a boarding house and the intoxicants, it is claimed, were sold to boarders and others. He was directed to pay the costs, fine of $500 and to undergo imprisonment in the county jail for three months.

In the case of W. Miller, charged with assault and battery, the jury found the defendant not guilty, but placed half the costs on him and the other half on the private prosecutor, George Panahan.

The jury divided the costs in the case against Earl Strausser, charged on oath of Mrs. May Frye, with wantonly pointing firearms, assault and battery, etc. The parties concerned had trouble over the taking of some fruit from the farm of Mrs. Tuman, mother of the prosecutrix, situated near Charleroi, which farm was rented by the father of the defendant.

MANY COUPLE ATTEND STATE COLLEGE DANCE

Stewart of Roscoe and L. A. Valentour of McDondale. Pennants formed the greater part of the decorations.

The annual opening of the Pittsburg Exposition this week once
again calls attention to the importance of the institution in a business way for the merchants and trades people of the Smoky City. This institution, which is entirely local to
sands of outside people who in this manner become acquainted with the
stores and business places, and learn
holiday spirit and exhilaration of
weeks instead of the three or four days of the county exhibit. Directly
and indirectly, the Pittsburgh Exposition has no doubt been responsible
for millions of dollars of outside
institution.

It is entirely within the province
event. That the people crave some such recreation was evidenced by the electrical exposition that the West Penn people held in the Charleroi skating rink here this last spring. This exposition was not only pleasing and attractive, but was
large crowds of people, many of

and to see and study the electrical
appliances and to learn something about their possibilities and application. The mere act of mingling

the exposition was highly enjoyed,
as well as a great success for its
promoters.

It is possible to hold a similar
in the rink at any time. Such an institution would be highly beneficial
town, and would afford a delightful
source of recreation for the people from all points along the valley.

PRESIDENT TAFT.

"Laboring under the disadvantage
House of Representatives and a
hopelessly split majority in the Senate of the Sixty-second Congress, President Taft has had an unusually
New York Sun. "The majority in
the House, ably captained, with a deplorable but thoroughly human instinct, has insisted on playing politics. The insurgent Senators have bent their energies to play the devil.
In the Congress the Republican party
has been in a hopeless minority.

position of the Executive has been
vexatious, trying and exposed to
unusual dangers. It is to Mr.
Taft's credit that he has sustained it
without more concessions to the ex-
pediencies of the hour or the neces-
which he is engaged. He has been
the President of the United States
first and an intelligent partisan second. He has not been a trimmer, nor
cause of clamor or misrepresentation.
"President Taft has made mis-
his essential sincerity, modesty, good
convincingly apparent."

There cannot be much complaint

Any town that cops a convention

How Uncle Joe Cannon can figure

Possibly no one will care, but it is still a fact that Jack Johnson didn't

Some people might think one odd

the cut out of an automobile is like is sometimes thankful for its existence when he has to hop out of the way
from some on-coming demon, whose goggled driver forgets to toot his horn.

Picnics are funny things. The
summer they don't like to attend
the middle part of the summer the people are too tired.

"The greatest innovation is auto-
now attracting our attention is a tire that does away with the air inflated inner tube," said C. S. Van Voorhis of the Elite Garage, which
is located on McKean avenue between Sixth and Seventh streets. "While
to general usage, after having successfully passed through all the evolutionary stages in its process of development.

"This substitute for the air in-
in which not a particle of rubber enters. As near as I can describe it
composition from which printers' rollers are made, except that it is im-permeable to heat and cold and water.
It is soft and elastic, and the tires are cast in solid sections of from 18
to 20 inches in length. These fit snugly into the outside casings, a joining section, something like the keystone of an arch, completing the circle.

"The case containing the solid but elastic substance is then clamped onto the wheel in the ordinary way, and you have a tire which will never collapse by puncture, and which will
stand up until the outside casing is entirely worn out. It is every bit, if not more, elastic than the air inflated tire, and a thousand times more
out so long as the casings are whole.

"We have secured the agency for
this tire, which is known as the "Esienkay," for Washington county.
We have already equipped the car of George Myford of the Myford Hotel
with them and have placed orders for
cars within our jurisdiction. This
miles with no apparent effect on
their durability.

"The auto business this year has been exceptionally good with us, and
the machines we handle, which are
the Stearns, the Overland and the Abbott-Detroit. In selling machines
now it is only a question of finance.
Previously the agency had to show the prospective customer the practicability of the auto. This is no longer necessary and the only thing left in a prospective deal is the matter of finance and the choice of a machine."

Among the world's left handed geniuses was Leonardo da Vinci, who
was left handed, but that was from
necessity.

J. R. Green records a story of Admiral Nelson's visit to Yarmouth to receive the freedom of the borough. "A storm met him on his landing, but the danger failed to prevent his appearance on the quay. When the freeman's oath was rendered to him the town
son, "is at Tenetide."

Opening of Twenty-fourth Season Wonderful Success; Titanic Wreck Reproduced on a Thriller

The Exposition opened under very favorable circumstances. The board of directors at a meeting held prior to the opening were enthusiastic over the outlook for this season. Words of encouragement and commendation have been more numerous this year than ever before. The real spirit and purpose of Pittsburgh's annual show are becoming more clearly understood today and are bringing out the strongest sympathy and co-operation. The United States government has the finest display of any ever given at the Point. Shelby Clarke of Washington is in charge of the exhibit and has spent many weeks in gathering it together from various arsenals and departments of the nation and arranging it in attractive and easily understood form for the spectators to see. The city of Pittsburgh, which is now spending millions of dollars in municipal improvements and in combating some of the sternest features of natural law in making streets more easily traveled, has on display models and profiles of the tremendous undertakings that are now under way. Even the greatest reinforced concrete bridge ever constructed in the world is shown in detail and illustrates the high degree of art that is now entering the public work of this country. At the end of machinery hall in the space formerly occupied by the reproduction of the battle of the Monitor and Merrimac there is on display one of the most startling pieces of realism ever attempted. Spectators are able to witness the departure from Southampton, England, of the great steamship Titanic on its first and last voyage and to trace every movement of that boat and watch the movements of its passengers until the moment that it crashed into the great iceberg that sent it to the bottom of the sea. The tragedy which makes an epoch in marine history is worked out before the eyes. Through the spectator was on board the ship, and with the aid of the artists of the country and show of mercantile products, while industry is shown in a score of branches including the famous Rother embroidery machine that turns out embroidery without the assistance of human hands for the first time in the history of the world. The public schools are showing a splendid exhibit of manual training among the children that is astonishing in its scope and shows the wonderful adaptability of the child in applying his hands to useful tasks when once he is interested. The Playgrounds association, the Carnegie Institute of Technology and all leading educational institutions of Pittsburgh are represented. The attractions from a musical standpoint are better than at any time in the past history of the Exposition. The world's greatest orchestras and concert bands are scheduled to appear this season. The entire program for the season is complete, and though some minor changes may be made from time to time it will be practically carried out as originally prepared. The city of San Francisco is represented at the Exposition with a large booth and much literature as well as frequent lantern slides and exhibits showing the city of the Golden Gate and many points of interest about it together with other features that will have a bearing on the coming Panama Canal exposition that will be held there in 1915. The Exposition Music Hall has been handsomely decorated and made more attractive than it has been since the Exposition buildings were completed. All the street car lines in Pittsburgh are issuing transfers to the Exposition buildings without extra charge and the railroad companies will run their usual excursion trains to Pittsburgh during the season as in the past. The approach to the buildings has been made more pleasant by more than doubling the ordinary street lights of the very latest type and everything has been done to make the visit of the throngs to the Point this year more enjoyable than ever before.

LIGGETTS CALL OFF CELEBRATION

Monongahelians Decide Not to Hold Field Events on Labor Day

Owing to the apparent lack of interest on the part of the young athletes of Monongahela the Liggett Athletic Association decided to call off the field meet, which had been scheduled for Bryan Field at Monongahela on Labor Day, next Monday. The entrants were so few that it was deemed wise to call the affair off rather than make a fizzle of the undertaking. The association will now center its efforts on the two baseball games which will be played between Liggett and Beltzhoover, one in the morning and the second in the afternoon.

The Mystery of Love
If a man should inquire me to give a reason why I loved him I find I could not otherwise be expressed but by making answer, because it was I, because it was I. There is beyond that I am able to say. I know no what inexplicable and fated power that brought on this union. — Mon tague.

Up Early.
"The boss asked me what made me look so tired," said Galley, the clerk, "and I told him I was up early this morning."
"Hub!" snorted the bookkeeper. "You never got up early in your life."

Pennsylvania System's Earnings Good Basis for Calculation

That the earnings of no single railroad reflect the trade conditions of the United States more faithfully than those of the Pennsylvania Railroad, is the statement made in a recent number of "The Statist," a leading journal of finance and trade in England. It is pointed out that from decade to decade the traffic of the Pennsylvania and its earnings have shown a vast increase in consequence of the expansion in the wealth, income and trade of the country.

Referring to the present business outlook, "The Statist" says: "Already the recovery has commenced and since last October the gross earnings of the railroad have shown expansion for the first five months of 1912 the expansion in gross earnings has been $5,444,000.00 or nearly nine per cent. The volume of American trade largely depends upon the abundance of the crops, and inasmuch as the harvest of 1912 other than winter wheat promises to be large, a great expansion in the traffic and earnings of the Pennsylvania is assured."

"If the traffic of the Pennsylvania shows the normal rate of expansion in the next few years, as we confidently anticipate it will do, the increase in the profits of the undertaking should prove substantial. In recent years the Company has constructed additional lines of railway along the whole length of its system, and it is now in a position to operate economically a much larger traffic than it enjoys. Consequently an increase in traffic for the next few years will not mean a corresponding increase of capital charges, but will bring a large expansion in profits for dividend."

MONESSEN CARING FOR THE BABIES

Keeps Experienced Nurse Busy During Summer—Cholera Infantile Noticeable

The report for the two weeks ending Monday morning, August 26, made by Miss Wilson, the baby nurse for Monessen is encouraging in every way and shows conclusively that very careful attention has been given the little ones who have suffered with child's greatest ailment—summer complaint or cholera-in-fantum.

Up until Monday morning there were twelve babies on Miss Wilson's visiting list.

Seven of these were really in dangerous conditions and were visited every day and very specific instructions given to the parents relative to their attention.

The remaining five were visited by the nurse every third day and they are so much improved as to be released soon.

Among the patients under Miss Wilson's care are Americans, Italians, Germans and Slavish, and while in some cases she experiences some difficulty at first in having mothers understand her instructions when they once learn that the intent is for the child's good they drop into and very readily follow the directions.

The funds contributed for this purpose are said to be holding out and Miss Wilson's services will be retained as long as there is any sickness needing her attention up until the cooler weather of fall comes.

"Why do you live with your husband if you quarrel all the time?"
"Well, my sister bet me a box of chocolates we would never celebrate our paper wedding anniversary, and I'm going to win it just to spite her."
